

Presented by the OHSU Department of Dermatology in collaboration with the Oregon Dermatology Society:

THE 3RD ANNUAL FRANCES J. STORRS, M.D. LECTURESHIP

Variations in health care practice: opportunities for improving care?

Designed to encourage interaction and dialogue by focusing on provocative topics that impact the practice of medicine and dermatology, this town-hall event will turn a spotlight on variations in health care practice to examine some of its consequences.

Featuring David C. Goodman, MD, MS

Dr. Goodman is professor of pediatrics and of health policy at The Dartmouth Institute for Health Policy and Clinical Practice, in NH; director of the Center for Health Policy Research; and co-principal investigator, Dartmouth Atlas of Health Care. Dr. Goodman's primary research interest is in variation of health workforce supply and its relation to health outcomes. His research papers and editorials have been published in the New England Journal of Medicine, JAMA, Health Affairs, Pediatrics, and The New York Times. Dr. Goodman is one of the founding investigators of the Dartmouth Atlas of Health Care and currently directs strategic planning and the day-to-day operations of the Atlas team.

Friday, November 18, 2011

1 p.m. – 5 p.m.

Vey Conference Ctr., Doernbecher Children's Hospital

Key Note Address

Beneath the skin of variation in health care practice: Insights from the Dartmouth Atlas of Health Care.

Special Topics

- 1. Oregon health care reform: moving in the right direction?*
- 2. How variations in clinical decision making affect individual health; will your decisions affect local and national policy?*

Joining Dr. Goodman for a panel discussion of the special topics will be Robert Dannenhoffer, M.D., pediatrician from Roseburg and former president of the Oregon Medical Association, and Edward Keenan, Ph.D., president of the Foundation for Medical Excellence, both of whom have been deeply involved with health care policies and reform in Oregon.

Join us!

Reception and dinner immediately following. ODS members, no charge. Non-ODS members or guests, $65

Contact Molly Blauvelt, blauvelm@ohsu.edu or 503 494-2157 to RSVP your attendance for the lecture and/or dinner by November 9, 2011